

COVID-19 Update AMA CPT Code 99072 Clarification

The American Medical Association Current Procedural Terminology (CPT) Editorial Panel recently established the new CPT code 99072. This code allows providers to report additional practice expenses incurred during a public health emergency, including supplies and additional clinical staff time.

Florida Blue providers can report code 99072 on the claim. However, payment will be considered “incidental” to any other services during the patient encounter. As such, it will not be paid separately.
